Christmas Concerts and Carols Services:

Each family are restricted to two places at each concert or carol service in order for us to comply with fire regulations. The health and safety of our children (and visitors) is at the forefront and whilst this may be disappointing for some, I am sure that you understand the situation.

Younger children and babes-in-arms are welcome but each are considered as a person (and therefore each child will be one of your places). Please be aware that pushchairs/prams will need to be left outside of the building. We would politely ask that if a young child cries during the performance, that you take them outside so as not to spoil the event for those children on stage and other members of the audience.
